Kangaroo Point Park

The recently opened Kangaroo Point Park with stunning views of Brisbane has been one project to mark Queensland's recent 150 year celebrations.

The park is a public space comprising a mix of street and landscape art. It also doubles as the city's premier picnic and BBQ spot where a modern café terrace, amphitheatre and striking cliff top promenade are its salient attractions.

Designers specified ACO's discrete Rhinocast® ductile iron access covers, complete with decorative brass edging, to minimize the visual appearance of many of the new pits installed as part of the upgraded power and communications infrastructure.
