

Stockland Baringa Shopping Centre, Sunshine Coast, Qld

The Stockland Group recently developed a $33M shopping centre for the Aura Township development. Covering 24km<sup>2</sup>, the largest planned community in Australia will include a supermarket, 13 specialty retailers, 300 car spaces and commercial offices. Future plans also include a medical centre, swimming school and pub.

Project Design Brief

A large number of utility enclosures of varying sizes were required across the site, including communications, data, lighting, power and CCTV services. For these utility enclosures, designers wanted a basic level of security to ensure the facility would be able to function without interruption.

ACO's Solution

- Polycrete® Pits with PowerLok® steel lids

Benefits

- ACO's large range of service pit sizes meant all pits could be sized according to their function
- All pits were fitted with PowerLok® lids, which feature a barless locking system and can be easily upgraded with higher level security locking if required in the future
- PowerLok® lids have a slip resistance rating of R10 to AS 4586

Specifier

- Calibre Consulting

