The Art Gallery of South Australia

The Art Gallery of South Australia, Adelaide, is home to one of Australia's greatest art collections and welcomes more than half a million visitors annually.

Funded by the state government department for Public Works and Buildings (DPTI), the security network was upgraded. Lighting, CCTV equipment and a sophisticated security alarm system were the key additions.

Designers required all utility enclosures to be safe & secure and therefore specified ACO Cablemate® polycrystalline concrete pits with PowerLok® lids. The PowerLok® universal locking system is the industry's first barless locking lid providing high security, greater work and public safety.
